Sean Michelle,

Thank you very much for all you did to facilitate promotion of the Rockland Memory Walk on Clear Channel Radio. The walk went well, and we appreciated having PS McCoy on-site broadcasting walk information and updates. Thanks again, and I hope to have the chance to work with you on Memory Walk again in coming years

Dear Friend,

On behalf of the Thomaston Recreation Department, I would like thank you for your generous donation to our "Sports Banquet" at the Rockland Elks Club on April 4, 2004. Without community and youth minded people like yourself, our programs would never receive the attention they need to survive successfully. Most everyone estimated that between 450-500 people attended the event. Spaghetti was served, along with homiema desserts, certificates were awarded, and prizes were drawn. Our special guests included "Slugger the Sea Dog" (the mascot from the Portland Sea Dogs professional baseball team) and "Crackers" (the mascot from the Portland Pirates professional hockey team). believe they had as much fun as the kids and adults did! Together we made sure your kindhearted donation was noticed and appreciated by all. We look forward to further successful youth programs, thanks to your generosity.

Again, many "Thanks" for your continued support of the youth in Thomaston .
Best wishes for many years of continued success.

Sincerely,

Wayne Judkins

Just wanted to thank you again for making an exception to your "no tours" rule for our Tiger Cub group; boys had a great time, and I know my son is still talking about it. He listens for your voice on the radio you have a new fan! I appreciate you taking so much time with the kids during what I know is a very busy year for you.

Dear Don Shields,

On behalf of the Zenith Program I would like to thank you for your sponsorship of our Junior Ice Fishing Derby. It was greatly appreciated and the kids who participate had a fantastic time! We made $1500 which made this our most profitable individual fundraiser this year. You have been a long time supporter of Zenith Alternative Ed.

Watch for our next planned fundraiser. We are planning to have an ATV Raffle the spring. Again I would like to thank you for your ongoing support and hope we can work with you again in the future.

Dear Kelly:

On behalf of the Ad Council's Board of Directors, I would like to thank you for WFAU-AM's invaluable support of the Ad Council's PSAs. For the past year, your station, WFAU-AM, has repeatedly demonstrated an outstanding commitment to improve the lives of your listeners. By donating valuable airtime to a variety of pressing social issues, you have distinguished your station as a caring resource for your community.

As a result, we are proud to report that in 2004, Clear Channel's radio stations collectively gave over $138 million in donated media toward Ad Council PSAs. This unprecedented partnership between the Ad Council and Clear Channel Communications has sustained momentum in 2005, and will continue into 2006 and beyond. This support allows the Ad Council to deliver our critically important messages to the public, ranging from education and health to community well-being and environmental preservation. To commend your generosity, we have mailed a letter to Congressman Allen, saluting your wonderful support of the Ad Council's PSAs (please find enclosed). This is one small gesture to thank you for your commitment to public service.

The Ad Council is more than a single organization. As it has been from the start, it is a unique collaboration of the media, ad agencies and corporate donors. Broadcasters such as WFAU-AM have been indispensable partners of the Ad Council for years and we cannot thank you enough. Thank you for your steadfast dedication to public service and commitment to improve your listeners' lives and communities.

Should you have any questions regarding this letter, please contact Kate Emanuel, the Ad Council's Senior Vice President for Nonprofit and Government Affairs at kemanuel@adccouncil.org or (202) 331-4152.

Dear Congressman Allen:

The Advertising Council, the nation's largest producer of public service advertising, is pleased to inform you of the extraordinary support, WFAU-AM, has given to our public service advertisements (PSAs).

In 2004, WFAU-AM (located in your Congressional district and owned by Clear Channel Communications) donated valuable airtime towards Ad Council PSAs. This station's unwavering support allows the Ad Council to communicate critically important messages to your constituents, helping to improve their lives and communities.

Ultimately, no matter how creative or poignant our PSAs are—a PSA can only have an impact if it is heard, watched, read or clicked. Clear Channel's invaluable commitment to public service has made that possible. Without the indispensable help of our broadcasters, we simply could not fulfill our mission to inspire action and save lives.

Our tremendous media support enables the Ad Council to address the most pressing social issues of the day through our 50-plus PSA campaigns. With the media's invaluable help, these messages are seen and heard by the communities that require help, or can offer assistance with a particular issue.

Please join us in commending WFAU-AM, and Clear Channel Communications for its unprecedented partnership with the Ad Council, for the documented support in 2004, continued support this year, and planned support in 2006, to improve the lives of your constituents and our nation.

If you have any questions regarding this station's impressive contributions, please have your office contact Kate Emanuel, the Ad Council's Vice President of Government Relations at kemanuel@adccouncil.org or (202) 331-4152.

Dear Glenn,

Your efforts toward our 15th annual Festival of Trees are greatly appreciated. Thank you for making it possible for the public to hear about this event which supports a wonderful cause.

Bishop Auditorium was a gorgeous holiday showplace of 20 uniquely beautiful trees and the opening day brunch was a hit once again. I'm very glad you were able to enjoy the brunch with some family and friends. We hope you'll all consider visiting the Festival an annual tradition along with the many hundreds of people who visit us year after year.

The Festival was a solid fundraising success. We even saw some small increases over last year's results, which was a welcome surprise!

Local support of the Festival of Trees benefits the youth who call Good Will-Hinckley "home". All proceeds taken in by the Festival help us to meet the expenses of maintaining our youth-centered community and programs which, for more than a century, have helped youth to flourish.

For many different reasons, young people come to Good Will-Hinckley because they are unable to live with their families. While we work to help them successfully reunite, Good Will-Hinckley is a safe place for youth to live, learn, and grow.

On behalf of all of us at Good Will-Hinckley, thank you, Glenn, for your efforts in support of our youth.

CENTER COURT

Kenneth Brown

With 42 games in 8 days, announcers know their stuff

So you can't make it to the Augusta Civic Center to watch your favorite high school basketball team play in the regional tournament?

No worries. Don Brown will be there for you. And if not Brown, then maybe Mike Estrada. Don Shields. Jerry Soper or a handful of others will be your eyes at the Civic Center. You provide the ears, they'll do the rest.

For the first time, all the games at the Augusta Civic Center are on the radio. If you can't get to Augusta, especially for the exact-timed quarterfinal rounds, then you can tune in to one of three radio stations: WIST-FM 57.5, WPAI-AM 1280, or WRKO.

Sidelines
Travis Lazanczyk

AM 1450. When a was announced last year that the Eastern Class A tournament would move from Bangor to Augusta, program director Shields started working on his plan to broadcast every game from the Augusta Civic Center.

"I think there really was a void here," Shields, who also takes a turn as a play-by-play man and is the games' color commentator, said. "We soon have it been done in Bangor, and I thought it was something we can't do."

That's 42 games in eight days. Assuming the average game takes about an hour and a half to play that works out to almost three full days of coverage. It's enough to make any broadcast scratchier than Biggie Smalls' rap. Especially when you start broadcasting teams you haven't seen before. You ever train for a dozen basketball games?

"The prep is the hard part," said Brown, who will do 20 games this week. "The easy part is the games."

It's easy to spend too much time in the booth when you're calling a good game, like one of the three overtime games in the Class A quarterfinals on Friday and Saturday. But when it's a blowout or a scriptly played game, and the tournament really has had plenty of those, what do you do?

"You try not to be negative," Estrada said. "You accentuate the positive. The truth is, every team that makes it here is a good team."

"You try to find all the positive angles you can," Brown said. "These are kids."

Spend enough time examining tape out of the tiny radio boxes high above court-side, behind the benches and scorer's table, and you begin to notice things.

"The schools that don't come here often, they get dressed early, come on and look around," Estrada said. "A school like Valley, they come in, they've been here before and they're all business."

"I enjoyed the Valley/North Haven game," Shields said, referring to Monday's Class D quarterfinal between the Upper Merion Cavaliers and a North Haven team making his first trip to Augusta in 20 years. "North Haven didn't wilt under the pressure. They didn't have the Oh-my-God look on their face. After the game (an EB-53 Valley win) they still had smiles on their faces."

Seeing smiles on faces is one of the perks of the job.

"I see these kids play in this tournament, 10 years later I meet them and they say 'Mr. Brown, I still have a tape of a game you did of mine,'" Brown said. "I'm sitting at center court, watching the best basketball players in the state. I can't complain."

If you're unable to make it to the Augusta Civic Center this week but you're able to get to a radio, you can't complain either.

June 2, 2006

Dear Friend,

We at the MONEY Athletic Foundation wish to express our sincere gratitude for your support of the 5th Annual Home Run Derby / Raffle. Through generosity like yours, we are able to help area youth in their athletic endeavors.

The Mikail R. Russo MONEY (More Opportunities for NEighborhood Youth) Athletic Foundation is dedicated to supporting youth athletics in the Mid-Coast area. The Foundation's goal is to make it easier for children in our community who work hard to reach their goals. All proceeds go directly to benefit young athletes. Last year the MONEY Athletic Foundation awarded over $12,000.00 in grants, and to date has helped over 200 kids go to summer camp, participate on travel teams, attend Outward Bound, and purchase equipment.

The MONEY Athletic Foundation, in memory of student/athlete Mikail "Money" Russo, is incorporated in the State of Maine and has been granted tax-exempt status with the federal government.

For more information about the Foundation, please check out our website at www.moneyathleticfoundation.org.

Again, we thank you for your help with a great cause in memory of a great person.

Most sincerely, ball, they even formed their own fantasy football league, which held its first player draft Wednesday night.

"We have the Belichick Division and Kraft Division," Tanguay said. "Gresh is the commissioner and the other guys are Scott Zolak, Ron Borges, Gil Santos, Gino Cappelletti, and me. Borges wasn't a big fantasy fan, but his girlfriend does it and he's into it now."

Guess that puts a new shine on the fantasy football segment added to the show last season.

Speaking of fantasy scenarios, even Tanguay didn't envision the show becoming so successful in four years.

"No I didn't. I'm pleasantly surprised," he admitted. "I think it is a niche kind of thing, but this is bigger than I expected it to get in terms of viewership. It tells me people can't get enough of sports talk."

Ah yes, the rise of sports talk — the darling of fans and the bane of many pundits, coaches, players and team personnel, who loathe the way it puts sports under a microscope and blurs reality.

Tanguay's heard the criticism.

"The question is does art reflect life or life reflect art? I think art reflects life because what we're talking about is what the fans are talking about," he said. "The problem is sometimes it's very easy to get opinion confused with fact."

"I think for the most part people are becoming accustomed and educated as to how shows are presented and opinions vs. facts, but there will always be those who don't get it or go overboard."

Giant step for WRKD

It's a Giant leap for New York football fans in Maine.

For the second straight year, Rockland all-sports radio station WRKD (1450 AM) and fellow Clear Channel stations WIGY (97.5 FM) of Madison and WFAU (1280 AM) of Gardiner are members of the New York Giants Network.

All three stations will carry all Giants regular season and available playoff games.

"It really was a good pickup for us," said WRKD program director Don Shields. "We looked at it this way: The Patriots were already taken in our markets and with the heritage of the Giants in New England — I mean it was Maine's team before there was a Patriots team — there were lots of Giants fans and we thought there was a void out there."

Shields also liked the fact the Giants network's pregame (15 minutes) and postgame (30 minutes) shows are much lesser commitments than the three-hour Patriots pre- and postgame shows.

"It made sense for us and advertisers supported it, so it was a good marriage," Shields said.

The marriage doesn't seem to be short-term in nature either as WRKD has already signed a two-year deal with the network.

"It's part of what the core of our station is," Shields explained. "We're Red Sox, Giants, Celtics and high school sports. When we jumped on last year, we were looking at it as a long term thing and I look at us being with the Giants for a long, long time."

The Giants kick off Sunday at 8 p.m. against Indianapolis. The game will also be televised on ESPN.

103.3 Real Country to broadcast 5K Fun Run/Walk in country

By Staff

THORNDIKE (Aug 11): Matt Thompson, of 103.3 Real Country WMCM, will broadcast live from the FUTURE MSAD 3 5K Fun Run/Walk at 9 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 19, at Mount View High School.

Advertisement

(FUTURE MSAD 3)

Pete Quimby will be on site with the Clear Channel Radio Community Care Van, and the first 100 participants will receive a commemorative token. The event, sponsored by FUTURE MSAD 3, is to promote the capital campaign for the new 300-seat Mount View Performing Arts Center.

Organizers of the noncompetitive, family-friendly event hope many Mount View alumni, parents, students, administrators, teachers and staff participate.

"We hope Mount View graduates, current students, parents and SAD 3 employees will gather their families up and come out to Mount View High School to support the Performing Arts Center campaign," said Bev Winship, co-chairperson of the FUTURE MSAD 3 events committee. "The 5K Fun Run/Walk is a great way for families to be active together and help support the Mount View Performing Arts Center campaign."

There is no entrance fee and donations will be accepted. All proceeds will benefit the capital campaign for the Mount View School Performing Arts Center. Advance registration is not necessary.

Contact Winship at 568-3422 or 568-3642 or winshipbev@uninets.net for more information. Participants who are unable to walk the approximately three-mile route from Mount View High School to Knox corner and back may walk on the high school track.

For more information about FUTURE MSAD 3, the campaign for the Mount View Performing Arts Center or to contribute, contact 207-948-6120; office@futuremsad3.org; or visit futuremsad3.org.

Fundraisers planned for Performing Arts Center

THORNDIKE — FUTURE MSAD 3 has released a schedule of events which will support the campaign for the 300-seat Mount View School Performing Arts Center, including a 5K Fun Run/Walk, a penny drive in SAD 3 elementary schools, a golf tournament and a table at the Mount View High School Christmas Craft Fair.

The $575,000 campaign for the Mount View Performing Arts Center will fund the electrical infrastructure, theatrical sound and lighting, acoustical design, a thrust stage and curtains, catwalk, control booth, and mezzanine, transforming the basic auditorium in the state-funded construction plan into a true performing arts center.

The FUTURE MSAD3 5K Fun Run/Walk is scheduled for 9 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 19, at Mount View High School, 577 Mount View Road/Route 220. This is a noncompetitive, family-friendly event. Commemorative tokens will be distributed to the first 100 participants. There is no entrance fee and donations will be accepted. All proceeds will benefit the capital campaign for the Mount View School Performing Arts Center.

Advance signups are not necessary. Call Bev Winship at 568-3422 or 568-3642 or e-mail winshipbev@uninets.net for more information. Participants unable to walk the three-mile route from Mount View High School to Knox corner and back may walk on the high school track. Pete Quimby of Clear Channel Radio will be at the event with the Community Care Van.

FUTURE MSAD 3 is a nonprofit organization run by community volunteers with the mission to raise funds to enhance particular areas in the new Mount View School complex not covered by state funding.

Mount View's new Performing Arts Center will provide a high-caliber performance space for all of the district's students — namely, Mount View's outstanding Chamber Singers, band, and drama club. The Performing Arts Center will enhance the development of student theatre programs in the elementary, middle and high school and will enable community members to host public events, community theater production and musicals.

Mount View students have used the existing cafeteria as a performing arts venue for the past 40 years. The state will fund a basic auditorium in the new Mount View school. With the new school comes a chance to build a Performing Arts Center at Mount View that will provide a high-caliber performance space for all students as well as the 11 surrounding communities comprising SAD 3.

For more information or to contribute, call 207-948-6120, e-mail office@futuremsad3.org, or visit futuremsad3.org.

Dear Kelly:

On behalf of the FUTURE MSAD 3 board of directors, we extend our most grateful thanks to Clear Channel Radio for helping us to promote the campaign for the Mt. View Performing Arts Center. The work of your staff to promote FUTURE MSAD 3 on the stations of Clear Channel Radio was phenomenal!

Thanks to putting us on the air with a 30-minute Maine View interview with Matt Thompson heard on six stations, live with Matt and Don on Real Country 103.3 and then with Cheryl Mercer on WABK 104.3, and joining us on August 19th for our 5K Fun Run/Walk at Mt. View High School – we were able to reach thousands of your listeners (and our alumni and friends) with our message of supporting the campaign. We could never have communicated our message without your help.

We are honored to count Clear Channel Radio among our most valued friends and supporters.

With grateful thanks,

Dear Lee:

Thank you for your donation of PSA support to our Raffle and Auction benefit event. This event is a source of revenue for our community service, leadership, and enrichment programs for teens, and you will help make it a big success!

We're going to serve nearly 500 young people this year and give them valuable opportunities to build self-confidence, learn new skills, cultivate responsibility, and make valuable connections to adults in their communities. Your generosity helps ensure that we'll continue to be a place where they receive encouragement, consistency, resources and support they need to thrive and to give generously to others.

For the record, Youthlinks is a nonprofit organization under IRS section 501 (c)(3) (Federal Tax ID # 01-0484281) and you received no goods or services in exchange for this contribution. This letter serves as a receipt for your donation.

Dear Good Will – Hinckley Festival of Trees Sponsor:

Thank you again for sponsoring the Festival of Trees. We were thrilled to have included you in this year's holiday celebrations.

The 2002 Festival of Trees was a huge success, attracting visitors from Central Maine and beyond to witness the magic of Christmas with their loved ones. Again, it is the support of caring sponsors like you that make this event, which so many consider a family tradition, possible.

Please accept this framed picture as a token of our appreciation for sharing our holiday vision.

On behalf of the 150 children of Good Will – Hinckley, I would like to thank you for helping to provide an opportunity to create long lasting happy memories.

Sincerely,
